A noun can be countable or uncountable:
Countable I eat a banana every day. I like bananas.	Uncountable I eat rice every day. I like rice.
Banana is a countable noun.	Rice is an uncountable noun.
A countable noun can be singular (banana) or plural (bananas).	An uncountable noun has only one form (rice).
We can use numbers with countable nouns. So we can say 'one banana', 'two bananas' etc.	We cannot use numbers with uncountable nouns. We cannot say 'one rice', 'two rices' etc.
Examples of nouns usually countable: Kate was singing a song. There's a nice beach near here. Do you have a ten-pound note? It wasn't your fault. It was an accident. There are no batteries in the radio. We don't have enough cups.	Examples of nouns usually uncountable: Kate was listening to (some) music. There's sand in my shoes. Do you have any money? It wasn't your fault. It was bad luck. There is no electricity in this house. We don't have enough water.
	States 100 spr - 1 control of
You can use a/an with singular countable nouns: a beach a student an umbrella	You cannot normally use a/an with uncountable nouns. We do not say 'a sand', 'a music', 'a rice'. But you can often use a of. For example: a bowl / a packet / a grain of rice
You cannot use singular countable nouns alone (without a/the/my etc.): I want a banana. (not I want banana) There's been an accident. (not There's been accident)	You can use uncountable nouns alone (without the/my/some etc.): I eat rice every day. There's blood on your shirt. Can you hear music ?
You can use plural countable nouns alone.
