Día de muertos

La tradición establece que el 1 y 2 de noviembre las almas de los fallecidos regresan a visitar a sus familiares vivos para degustar una vez más sus alimentos favoritos, los cuales son colocados en los altares. El pan de muerto, las flores, el papel picado, las calaveritas de azúcar y el copal, llenan de color y alegría los hogares mexicanos.

Aunque el Día de muertos es una fiesta nacional, Michoacán destaca por su forma de conmemorar la vida después de la muerte. Cada región recuerda a sus muertos con rituales distintos que tienen su origen en tiempos prehispánicos.

Las velaciones en los panteones el 1 y 2 de noviembre son uno de los principales atractivos del Día de muertos en Michoacán, estas se complementan con eventos artísticos y religiosos en Morelia, Pátzcuaro, Uruapan, entre otros.
